Andrew's rich sector knowledge and familiarity with the legal landscape make him a strong ally to have on your commercial litigation team.

Andrew is a partner in our Litigation Group in Toronto. He is also a member of our Global Mining Litigation Practice Group and International Arbitration Practice Group.

Andrew maintains a general civil and corporate/commercial litigation practice, primarily centred on disputes involving mining, construction/infrastructure, as well as professional negligence. As a litigator, Andrew assists the clients he works with on civil proceedings – having appeared at all levels of the courts in Ontario, including the Court of Appeal, regulatory complaints and domestic and international arbitrations.

Notable files Andrew has been involved with include having:

- represented a global diversified natural resources company in an international commercial arbitration relating to a dispute over the proper calculation of a mineral royalty;
- acted for a global royalty company against major and junior company as successors in title relating to a disputed precious metals royalty formula;
- acted for various owners and developers in relation to construction lien disputes, both in civil proceedings and arbitration;
- appeared as lead trial counsel and lead counsel before the Ontario Court of Appeal in professional negligence matters; and
- represented commercial parties in injunction proceedings, applications and actions on the Commercial List.

Andrew keeps a finger on the pulse of what is happening legally in the industries he serves in a number of ways. He regularly writes for the firm's mining industry blog Mining Prospects and annual Mining in the Courts publication. Andrew also contributes to the firm's International Arbitration Blog, has authored various articles and speaks at seminars on topics of advocacy. Lastly, Andrew combines his passion for the law and teaching by being an instructor at the Faculty of Law at Queen's University, where he enlightens the lawyers of tomorrow on trial advocacy.

Andrew received a BA (Hons.) from Queen's University in 2007 and a JD from Queen's University in 2010, when he was awarded the course prize in Health Law. In addition, to complement his already rich sector knowledge, Andrew has earned a Certificate in Mining Law from Osgoode Hall Law School. He was called to the Ontario Bar in 2011, and
