Lauren Fishman is e-discovery counsel in our Toronto office, MT>3, a division of McCarthy Tétrault. MT>3 is Canada's leader in e-discovery, information governance and the management of digital information. Her practice includes a wide range of commercial and civil litigation matters with expertise in the law of privilege as it relates to the discovery and production of electronic records. She has worked on privilege reviews for a variety of e-discovery clients.

Also very knowledgeable about e-discovery best practices, Lauren has significant experience managing, supervising and providing quality control on large-scale, complex electronic document review and production initiatives, in particular for high-profile class actions and Competition Bureau supplementary information requests for large M&A transactions.

A business person at heart who previously launched and ran her own children's clothing label, Lauren brings that same entrepreneurial zeal and business acumen to all her client relationships today. She has kept up her involvement in the business community by mentoring young entrepreneurs through government-supported initiatives.

Lauren is a member of the Ontario Bar Association (Civil Litigation Section), the Advocates' Society and the Women's Executive Network. She received her LLB from Osgoode Hall Law School in 2000.

In her spare time, Lauren enjoys reading, travelling, cooking and spending time with her family.
