Phillip Sanford is a partner in our Municipal Group in Toronto. His practice focuses on municipal property tax appeals, property tax recovery disputes and commercial rent review arbitrations.

Phillip represents many of Ontario's largest commercial and industrial enterprises. He also advises various municipalities and Crown corporations.

Phillip is a frequent lecturer before public, educational and professional associations, including the Law Society of Ontario, the Institute of Municipal Assessors and the Canadian Property Tax Association.

He is a member of the Advocate's Society and frequently appears before the Assessment Review Board, Ontario Municipal Board and before Ontario's civil courts.

Phillip received his BA from Carleton University in 1972 and his LLB from the University of Ottawa in 1976.
