

Marc-Antoine Gaudet

Articling Student

Montréal

magaudet@mccarthy.ca

t. +1 514-397-7098

Law School

Université Laval

Marc-Antoine graduated with honours from Université Laval's Faculty of Law in May 2018. While pursuing his undergraduate studies, he was fortunate enough to develop his knowledge of European and French law by completing a semester of study at Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne. He also had the privilege of further deepening his interest in litigation and legal research by completing an internship at the Superior Court under the Honourable Pierre Ouellet, j.s.c.. In addition, Marc-Antoine recently completed the Juris Doctor program at Université de Montréal.

Marc-Antoine firmly believes in the importance of social and community involvement, which is why he has been involved in volunteer activities for over 10 years, particularly in a youth theatre project.

In his spare time, Marc-Antoine particularly enjoys reading, running, theatre, as well as activities that allow him to combine his passion for food and wine.

Recent Insights

- Can a plan of arrangement authorize a monitor appointed to supervise insolvency proceedings to exercise rights on behalf of the debtor's creditors?

June 11, 2020

- Are demobilization costs incurred by the lessor of property leased pursuant to an agreement which was disclaimed during insolvency proceedings to be paid by the debtor?

March 19, 2020