Queen's University

Nataly is completing her JD at Queen's University Faculty of Law. Prior to law school, Nataly obtained her Bachelor of Health Sciences from Western University with an honours specialization in Health Studies. During her undergraduate studies, Nataly spent her summers working for a cold-pressed juice start-up, where she assisted the company in sales, marketing, and brand promotions.

Nataly is actively engaged in the Queen's Law community. She co-founded and serves as co-president of the Queen's Venture Law Society, a club that is focused on innovative start-ups and the legal challenges they face. Nataly has also been involved in providing pro bono legal services. She was a first year volunteer with the Queen's Business Law Clinic (QBLC), and continued to serve clients as a caseworker in her second year. At QBLC, Nataly assisted start-ups, non-profit organizations, and small business owners with their legal needs.

Last summer, Nataly worked to develop a consumer facing custom diamond jewelry brand for a wholesale diamond company. In her spare time, Nataly enjoys cooking, trying new boutique fitness classes, and listening to podcasts.
