Law School

Osgoode Hall Law School

Jaclyn graduated from Osgoode Hall Law School in 2020. She holds a B.Sc. in Engineering degree from the University of Alberta. While at law school, she served as the Dean's Fellow for first year Contract Law and a caseworker at the Investor Protection Clinic.

Prior to law school, Jaclyn worked as a mining engineer in Alberta. She spent three years on secondment at a major oil sands operator where she provided in-house support to their long-range mine planning team.

In 2016, Jaclyn co-founded a consumer goods start-up that provides stylish and functional products to young parents like herself. She hopes to combine her experiences as an engineer and entrepreneur to bring innovative solutions to clients and businesses.

Outside of work, Jaclyn enjoys spending time with her family and taking her son to different activities around Toronto.
