Law School

University of Toronto

Myim completed his JD at the University of Toronto Faculty of Law. He was the recipient of a Laskin Prize in Constitutional Law and his team came first in the 2021 Wilson Moot. Myim served as a Senior Editor of the University of Toronto Faculty of Law Review, a Research Assistant, a practicum Student with the David Asper Centre for Constitutional Rights, and an executive of two student clubs. Myim also worked as an instructor and volunteer with Law In Action Within Schools (LAWS).

Prior to law school, Myim received a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) with Distinction in Political Science from the University of Victoria. He was actively involved in student society and played drums in the UVIC Jazz Orchestra. Myim subsequently served as a British Columbia Legislative Intern.

Outside of the law, Myim is a musician, an avid reader, and a runner striving for year-round consistency. He's keen to make up for all the concerts he missed during the pandemic.
