

Erin Jackes

Summer Student | At University

Vancouver

ejackes@mccarthy.ca

t. 604-643-7926

Law School

University of Victoria

Erin is transitioning into law after a career as a social worker, where she aided clients in solving complex problems and systems navigation. She received her Bachelor of Social Work from the University of British Columbia and subsequently obtained her Master of Social Work from the University of Calgary, specializing in clinical practice.

Erin is a J.D. student at the University of Victoria and was the 2019 recipient of the Canadian Bar Association BC Branch Entrance Award. Erin is an active member of her law school community. She is the University of Victoria's Access Pro Bono Student Clinic director and a member of the Indigenous Perspective Camp Planning Committee. Erin spent her first-year summer as a student researcher for an independent office of the legislature and represented her school in her second year at the 2021 Gale Cup Moot. After graduation, Erin will be clerking at the British Columbia Supreme Court.

In her spare time, Erin enjoys rock climbing, reading, and live music.

Recent Insights

- BC Court reduces Wrongful Dismissal Damages finding that CERB Payments are to be considered Mitigation Income
July 28, 2021
- Recent Developments in the United States Consumer Privacy Landscape
July 19, 2021