Cecile designs estate plans and helps clients navigate through the administration of trusts and estates.

Cecile Ko Brock is Counsel in the Trusts and Estates section of McCarthy Tétrault's leading tax group in Toronto. Her areas of specialty are wills, trusts, estate planning and estate administration. Cecile is designated as a Trust and Estate Practitioner (TEP) by the internationally recognized Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners (STEP).

Known for her personable approach, Cecile helps clients create estate plans that are customized to their unique family dynamics and business needs. She advises clients on probate tax planning, incapacity planning, business succession, estate freezes, family trusts, digital assets, planning for disabled beneficiaries and charitable giving. She acts for individual and corporate clients and provides thoughtful and creative advice that is bespoke to each client.

Cecile advises estate trustees/executors, trustees and beneficiaries of their rights and duties and guides them through the administration of trusts and estates. She also advises attorneys on the management of a donor's property and personal care. She is experienced in managing sensitive family situations and developing solutions to provide clients with peace of mind.

Cecile's achievements in trusts and estates law are widely recognized by her peers and colleagues. In 2024, she was awarded the Hoffstein Book Prize by the Ontario Bar Association for her achievements and outstanding contributions to the area of wills, trusts and estates. She is also a two-time recipient of the STEP Canada Scholars Award for Best Essay (2020 and 2023) having achieved the highest grade for two of her three essays submitted to obtain her TEP designation. The award recognizes the author of the most outstanding essay submitted annually and represents "a fusion of scholarly rigor, insightful analysis, and the art of written expression, showcasing the recipient's exceptional understanding and engagement with complex legal and financial concepts."
