Heba Al-Shakarchi is counsel in our Financial Services group in Toronto. Her practice is focused on lending and secured financing transactions, with an emphasis on the project finance, power and infrastructure sectors. She regularly represents Canadian and foreign sponsors, borrowers, project companies, commercial banks and non-bank lenders on a range of domestic and international financing transactions.

Heba's recent experience includes:

- acting for the lenders in connection with the approximately C$120 million refinancing of non-recourse credit facilities in respect of four Ontario wind power projects
- acting for the lender syndicate in connection with a C$500 million credit facility for the financing of a leading Ontario power producer's Colombian regulated distribution utility
- acting for the bondholders on a C$1.08 billion private placement offering in respect of the acquisition of an interest in three hydro-electric facilities in northern British Columbia
- acting for an international syndicate of lenders on the refinancing of non-recourse credit facilities in respect of two Ontario ground-mount solar farm projects
- acting for the bondholders on an approximately C$260 million private placement offering in respect of three wind power projects in New Brunswick
- acting for a leading Canadian bank in providing net asset value based credit facilities to Canadian and Luxembourg based private equity funds
- acting for a leading US-based technology manufacturer in the establishment of corporate credit facilities for its Canadian subsidiary

Heba is a frequent panelist and presenter on lending and market trends of interest to major lenders and financial institutions. She is a board member of
