He's my go-to for complex bilateral and syndicated transactions.

— CLIENT, CHAMBERS CANADA

Clients appreciate his ability to distill complicated legal concepts into concise, articulate, common sense advice and his responsive, approachable nature. Recognized as a deal-maker, Tzen's keen insights and deep understanding of the market and industry helps ensure a seamless experience for all parties. He has acted as lead counsel in many complex transactions, providing tactical advice and innovative solutions to help clients meet their target objectives. Some of his recent notable work includes:

- Successfully advised Stelco Inc. on all aspects of a $114 million real estate acquisition from Legacy Lands Limited Partnership;
- Served as lead counsel for a Canadian life insurance company on its largest ever bilateral mortgage financing ($240 million) and one of its more complex transactions due to the interest being financed being a co-ownership interest in leasehold lands;
- Acted as lead counsel for the lenders on the takeout financing for the recently constructed Halifax Convention Centre in Halifax, NS, worth $150 million;
- Successfully guided the vendor to a successful closing of a complex hotel sale valued at $31 million.

He's practical and reasonable, on top of being good and hard working.

— CLIENT, CHAMBERS CANADA

An active member of the community, Tzen is a founding member and sits on the board of Ascend Canada, a not-for-profit pan-Asian business leaders association. Within the firm, he is heavily involved in various mentorship opportunities. Prior to joining McCarthy Tétrault, Tzen worked as a journalist at The China Post, Taiwan's national English newspaper, and studied Mandarin Chinese at the National Taiwan Normal University.
