Alysia is the Specialist of Student Programs for the Toronto office. She works closely with the Director of Professional Resources on the administration of the student program including recruitment, orientation and performance evaluations. She strives to support summer and articling students as they integrate into the firm while fostering an inclusive firm environment.

Before joining the firm, Alysia coordinated the student program at another national law firm. She also supported the delivery of education programs at a boutique law firm and a legal association.

Outside of work, Alysia winds down with yoga and meditation and enjoys worldly food culture and discovering new creative hobbies.
