Jenn is an associate in our Litigation Group in Vancouver. Her practice focuses on commercial dispute resolution and arbitration, including contractual disputes, life sciences and other intellectual property disputes, construction disputes, consumer class actions, environmental prosecutions, and information and privacy law.

She understands that every client has unique needs and provides advice in a strategic, practical, and efficient manner.

Jenn regularly assists clients with complex commercial and regulatory issues and has experience managing large commercial litigation and arbitration matters, which involve detailed legal analysis and strategic E-Discovery project management. She has appeared before the Supreme Court and Provincial Court in British Columbia, and has experience interpreting a variety of domestic and international arbitration rules.

Jenn obtained a Ph.D. in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology from the University of British Columbia and a J.D. from the Peter A. Allard School of Law (UBC). She enjoys working with expert witnesses, delving into technical evidence, and translating scientific and technical issues into persuasive legal argument.

After law school, Jenn clerked for the Honourable Mr. Justice Manson of the Federal Court of Canada.
