Daniel Downie is an associate in McCarthy Tétrault's National Tax Group, based in the firm's Calgary office. He maintains a diverse tax practice encompassing all areas of domestic and international income tax.

Daniel's practice includes corporate tax planning and the tax aspects of mergers and acquisitions, reorganizations and corporate finance. He also has experience with matters dealing with the taxation of trusts, partnerships and foreign affiliates. Daniel has worked with businesses of all sizes in a variety of sectors including the energy, mining, oil and gas, technology and private equity sectors.

Daniel also has experience assisting clients with high-stakes tax disputes including those dealing with the general anti-avoidance rule, transfer pricing, resource taxation and various administrative and procedural matters specific to tax disputes. In his disputes practice, Daniel has assisted clients with matters at the audit and objection stages as well as those in litigation before the Tax Court of Canada and the Federal Court of Appeal.

Alongside his practice, Daniel is the Chair of both the Canadian Tax Foundation – Young Practitioners' Steering Committee (Calgary) and the Executive Committee of the CBA Alberta Taxation Law (South) Section. He is also a member of the Law Society of Alberta, the Canadian Bar Association, the Canadian Petroleum Tax Society and the International Fiscal Association.

Daniel was called to the Alberta Bar in 2020. Daniel earned his Juris Doctor (with distinction) from the University of Alberta in 2019, where he received various awards for his academic standing and contributions to the community. He has also completed all three years of the CPA Canada In-Depth Tax Program. Prior to joining McCarthy Tétrault, Daniel practiced as a tax lawyer in the Calgary office of a large national law firm.
