

Dominique Payette

Profile

TITLE

Lawyer

OFFICE

Montréal

COMPANY

National Bank

Biography

Bachelor's in law, juris doctor and master's in common law from Université de Montréal, master's directed research paper entitled Regulating Robo-Advisers in Canada, under the supervision of Professor Stéphane Rousseau, published in September 2018 in the Banking and Financial Law Review.

Practiced commercial litigation at Jolicoeur Lacasse (specifically in the areas of bankruptcy, corporate and contract liability), before joining Legal Affairs at the National Bank of Canada, where she practices commercial law, financing, law of security, and contract law, and is involved in several technological innovation initiatives, such as artificial intelligence and blockchain.